Chautauqua Ends Sunday May Not Return Next Year

Monesen's second annual chautauqua was brought to a close Sunday evening with an interesting lecture by Dr. Ernest Wray O'Neal. There is no man on the lecture platform that is more welcome in this city than the Rev. Dr. O'Neal who is recognized as a brilliant orator and a learned man. He has appeared here on several former occasions and when he was introduced to give his lecture on "Popular Fallacies" last evening he was given a hearty ovation. The Weber Male Quartette gave a sacred concert preceeding his lecture. In the afternoon, Rev. Edgar F. Daugherty gave an interesting lecture on "Conscience." The Weber Male Quartette gave a concert at the afternoon session.

Saturday was one of the best days of the week with The Hawda Quartette, Pamahaski and his trained birds and other animals and the Hon. Chas. F. Scott, who spoke on "The Martydoom of Belgium." The Hon. Mr. Scott gave the lecture in a neutral manner and did not choose sides with any of the beligerents now engaged in the terrible conflict. He told of the true existing conditions in the faraway half-starving nation, from which he just recently returned after having pased through the German lines with foodstuffs sent by the United States for the relief of the starving Belgians.

Despite the fact that Superintendent H. B. Richardson made several appeals to the local audiences for the return of the Chautauqua to this city next year, he was compelled to state at the closing program last night that nothing definite had been done in the manner and he regreted that the town would probably give up this popular form of entertainment. It may be that efforts will be continued to secure enough guarantors to have the Chautauqua return, but at the present it is the opinion that the majority of the residents do not feel in a position to pledge themselves for any number of tickets, especially if it should turn out as this year when a deficit of $800 was made up by the guarantors. Monessen is not the only town that experienced trouble in securing the guarantee this year as the same conditions exist in Brownsville, Charleroi, Uniontown, Connellsville and Monongahela.

The Mohawks traveled to Allenport and defeated the Allenport J. C. S. by the score of 10 to 1. Gibson twirled for the Mohawks and pitched a fine game, giving Allenport their only run in the first inning, but settled down and held them to five hits. While the Mohawks got at Allenport, pitcher and hammered out 13 hits for the 10 runs.

All Ready For Picnic Wednesday

Park amusements and specially arranged events will comprise one of the biggest feature programs that has ever been presented during this entire season at Eldora Park on next Wednesday, when the big valley newspaper outing will be held. The park management is extending the newspaper men and their guests from the Monongahela valley every courtesy for the day, and will look for the visitors in the best of shape.

The coupons entitling women and children to the free enjoyment of all the park amusements, have been eagerly clipped from newspapers. In Monongahela. Charleroi, Monessen, Donora, Brownsville, California and the numerous other towns interested in the outing the publication of the coupons has met with an eager response.

One of the features will be the serving of free ice cream by the Velvet Ice Cream Maufacturers to all children of the age of 14 years and under. The Velvet people have recently opened up a new ice cream manufactory at Monongahela, installing all the latest and most up-to-date machinery, which for sanitary conveniences cannot be beaten.

Prisoners Will Serve Thirty Days

Police court was featured this morning by the large number of local citizens who fell victims of the demon rum on Saturday evening. Only a very small portion of the prisoners were of the foreign element and they seemed to have plenty of money to pay the fines assessed.

Thomas Magee was the first prisoner, charged with being drunk and disorderly only a few doors away from the police station. He paid a fine of $2.00 and costs. John Hura got into a fight over the war with a number of men at the corner of Third and Schoonmaker. He paid a fine and costs amounting to $4.00 and was told to go to Europe if he wanted to fight.

John McCann of Third street failed to appear and claim his pint and a half of poor whiskey and $5.00 in money. Oscar Little was arrested at the corner of Fifth and Donner charged with being drunk. This being his first offense he was allowed his freedom. John Badzick, despite his many years still likes his booze. He raised quite a disturbance at his home and was arrested. Mike is a pioneer citizen and was also allowed to go this time.

James Hanan a cripple and Patrick Hurly, both old offenders were before the burgess again this morning. Little time was wasted on the prisoners as they were given many opportunities to straighten up. They will spend the next thirty days in jail in Greensburg. Joseph Capula, another old offender will work on the streets for the next two days. Charles Moklosky and John Perchania invited Steve Moranis of Donora to have a bottle of beer at their boarding house. Steve took several bottles and wanted to fight. Someone hit him on the head and the wound required several stiches. The fight was over, the police called and all three faced the burgess this morning. Moklosky and Moranis both paid fines of $5.00.

Today at the Olympic—"A Doomed Hero," featuring the world's greatest comedian, Billie Ritchie in two parts.

Robert Evans spent the week end visiting his parents in Pittsburgh.

Misses Isabel Albright, Dot Shutterly, Rhoda Armstrong and Bess Dowler returned last evening from a vacation spent at Atlantic City.

Ellsworth Easy Victims For Local Ball Team

With two victories over Beltzhoover and one over the strong Monongahela team the fast Ellsworth bunch of ball players invaded Monesen Saturday, confident of adding the Independent's scalp to their list but when Dan Ryan began tosing the ball across the pan in the first inning they soon changed their minds and from that time their lone endeavors were to keep the locals from piling up runs. When the game was called, however, the score stood 10 to 1 in favor of the locals.

The Independents had their batting clothes on and hardly an inning passed but what a run was scored and in the fifth every man on the team went to bat and five runs were registered up. Ryan was in great form and kept the visitors from becoming dangerous at all times. In the eighth one man got on base and on an error by an outfielder was able to get the lone tally for the visitors. The Ellsworth boys were loaded for the game with Mike O'Brien, the old Fayette City star and Carlson, formerly a member of the local team in their lineup.

They used four pitchers and the game was looked upon as a farce after the first few innings. The visitors had hopes of claiming the championship of the valley, but returned home out of spirits and the championship will not be settled until the games between Monongahela and the locals are played.

New Lock Open

Characterized by the frantic tooting of whistles, the new outer lock at Lock No. 4 was opened up Saturday morning at 11 o'clock for traffic. The U. S steamer Swan with a tow of two derrick boats and a dredge was he first boat to pass through the lock. It was followed by the U. S. steamer Slackwater, with a tow of one derick boat. The first boat to be locked other than by the government was the yacht "Margaret" owned by J. F. Milliken. The new lock is 360 feet "in the clear" which means that there is 360 feet of locking space. As soon as tests of the lock are completed, work on the inner lock will be completed.

Miss Isabelle Monjot has returned home after spending a weeks' vacation visiting among friends at Cleveland, Buffalo, and Niagara Falls.

Misses Lorena Teuche and Amelia Peil left yesterday morning for McKeesport where they will visit friends for several days.

John Lykos, bartender at the Victoria hotel, was married yesterday to one of Hyde Park's fairest maidens. After a two weeks' wedding trip on the Great Lakes, he will return to this city and go to housekeeping. Quite a number of local friends went to Hyde Park yesterday to attend the wedding.

TRAP CHAMPION REAL CHAMPION

Clay Bird Shooters Must Vanquish All Comers to Win Title.

The Difference Between Golf, Tennis and Trapshooting Honors — Forty State Champions to Compete for National Trapshooting Title.

By Samuel Wesley Long

Why is a champion? Speaking generally, we don't know

Now, if you will change the question to a specific one and ask, "why is the national trapshooting champion?" you'll start something But before the "something" gets going and monopolizes all of the allotted space, it is but fair that we explain why we cannot tell just why is a, for instance, golf or tennis champion, though we are strong for these games as well as for all other outdoor sports

However unneutral you may be with reference to any particular re creation, you will admit that "facts is facts" just the same as "pigs is pigs," and it is a toss up as to which is the more pig-headed at times, so not being responsible for either pigs or facts, we must ask you to put the blame where it belongs If you don't approve of pigs or don t like the way facts affect a phase of your favorite sport

To resume, the winning of a golf or tennis championship is simply a matter of an aspirant taking a pot shot at the "champion" who has won the honor by taking a pot shot at the champ who in turn, had wrested the title from a preceding "champion" much on the order of the endless story that depended for its endlessness on a repetition of the words "then another locust went in and took out another grain of corn, then another locust, etc, etc, etc" And it was some granary that the bugs undertook the job of emptying

Certainly it is true that our best friends are those who gently and kindly (and privately) tell us our faults, therefore, golfers and tennis ers will drink heartily from our proffered loving cup Incidentally, it is to be remarked that if Great Britain ever tried to take golf back home to Scotland, some half million American trapshooters would rally in defense of the game and instead of "Hoot, mon" it would be Shoot mon" Ditto for tennis in event of an attempt to suppress it

Penning the pigs and again trotting out the facts, the national amateur trapshooting championship is a championship, and the shooter who wins it is a champion—a champion of champions, in fact, for in order to qualify to compete for the national title contestants must first win the championship of their respective states by outshooting all comers at tournaments having the official sanction of the Interstate Association

Ordinarily, shooters with high averages are handicapped from one to seven yards —shooting from the seventeen to twenty three yard line—according to their records but in the event to determine a state championship, all contestants, from novices to experts, fire from points sixteen yards back of the trap thereby making each a scratch man and leaving skill alone to be the determining factor in the scores registered The sixteen-yard rule is in effect also when the champions of the different states meet to try conclusions in the national competition at the Grand American (Trapshooting) Handicap.

Last year, at Dayton, Ohio, forty states were represented in the championship race, the honor going to Kentucky via Woolfolk Henderson, a Lexington gunman This year the big affair will be staged at Chicago during G A H. week, Aug 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, and the indications are that the entry list of eligibles will shade that of 1914.

With state shoots in full swing, the list of eligibles for National Championship honors is steadily growing Competition is at 100 targets, on which the following scores have been made Nebraska, H Rebhausen, 95 Oregon, L Reubern, 98 Pennsylvania, C H Newcomb, 98, Oklahoma, C Campbell, 99 Washington, E J Chingren, 99, Delaware, A B Richardson, 100 Alabama, J K Warren, 99, West Virginia, H L Smith, 100, New York, H J Pendergast tied on score of 97, winning in second shoot off Minnesota, A R Chezek, 98 Iowa, J R Jahn, 100, Indiana, R H Bruns tied with 98 and won shoot off, Tennessee, Thomas Hale, 99, New Jersey, F S Tomlin, 97, South Dakota, A J French, 98, Connecticut, C H Vanstone, tied at 94, breaking 25 straight in shoot off.

Disregarding the sage advice to "talk to the point and stop," we linger awhile longer to say that the Sixteenth Grand American Handicap, with ten traps in operation and a possible list of 750 entrants, will just about be the biggest thing these United States have ever seen in a sporting classic With a personal knowledge of the number of spectators at several past G A H's, we are ready to accept Chicago's statement that Grant Park, on the Windy City's lake front, will see a daily "gallery" of 25,000 to 50,000 during the noisy days of August 16-20.

Paxtine

For Douches

In the local treatment of woman's ills, such as leucorrhoea and inflammation, no deuches of Paxtine are very effective No woman who has ever used medicated douches will fail to appreciate the clean and healthy condition Paxtine produces and the prompt relief from soreness and discomfort which follows its use This is because Paxtine possesses superior cleansing, disinfecting and healing properties

For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co have recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women who ask their aid, and many have written us that they have been entirely cured by its use. Others say they would not be without it if it cost $5 a box. We prove all this to you. We will gladly send a large box by mail Sample free. The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Tyrone Power Writes of Motion Pictures and Recalls the Days of Sir Henry Irving and Others

TYRONE POWER AS "MAVERICK BRANDER."

William Winter, dramatic critic, in his book on the life of Tyrone Power, says that Power will go down in stage history as great an artist as Booth, Barrett or John McCullough Every one knows of the distinguished stage career of Power who played Brutus to Faversham's Marc Antony; supported Sir Henry Irving and Helen Terry; scored as "the Marquis of Steyne," in Mrs. Fiske's production of "Becky Sharp," and was a leading member of Augustin Daly's great company of artists of the spoken drama.—Editorial Note.

By TYRONE POWER.

I am proud to appear in the silent drama and I am delighted to be a member of the great Selig Polyscope company, for Mr. William N. Selig's artistic conceptions appeal to me, and I feel perfectly at home in the Selig environment. I feel there are opportunities in motion picture work that are somewhat lacking in stage art. Yes, even such an old stager as myself is obliged to admit this fact

I concluded upon taking up this work to permit the director to direct and the actor to act. Maybe the failures registered by some actors and actresses, who turn to the motion pictures, are caused by the fact that they assume a know-it-all attitude. They refuse instruction, claiming that years of experience on the stage cause them to be well qualified to act for the screen. For my part, I have found many new details to comprehend—much new "business" that is peculiarly identified with the animated screen

The art of make-up, for example, must be altered to a certain extent Make-up appropriate for the footlights will never do in the motion picture studio. Then again, there is new technique to comprehend, a more limited space for the action, and there is no audience to spur one along.

I confess that for a time I held the attitude of many other well-known actors toward the silent drama. I thought the industry but a flash in the pan. But with the advancement, the wonderful strides onward and upward, I experienced a change of heart. I was informed that people who never before could afford to see my acting would now be given an opportunity because the prices for the silent drama are not so high. I was informed that picture play audiences were exacting, and as appreciative and as pliant as those who frequent the legitimate theaters. I believe this to be true. I have been visiting many picture play theaters, and I have been studying the audiences. I believe that my art will not suffer and that I am in a humble way contributing to the enjoyment of the masses, when I try to do my best in picture-play land.

I believe that if Sir Henry Irving, that great actor, were alive, that he would perpetuate his art for future generations through the medium of motion pictures. I was playing Bocassio in Sir Henry's London production, I well remember, and one night his dresser came to me and said Sir Henry wanted to see me. Attired in a resplendent robe, I mounted the stairs to Sir Henry's dressing room He was seated before his dressing table making up for his wonderful character role. I can see him vividly in my mind's eye. "Power," said he, "who was the greatest of all English-speaking actors?" One of the greatest of actors sat there, but without reflection, I said: "Edmund Kean, perhaps."

"Ah-h-h, right you are," exclaimed Sir Henry. "Edmund Kean was the greatest of English speaking actors—the little man in the cape."

Mrs Powers and I have a little son, and naturally all our hopes are centered in him And when he grows in years the art of the motion pictures will do much for his education. He will have educational advantages that I never had. His mind will be broadened without the vexations of extended travel, he will have learned at an early age the wonderful story of the bee and other secrets of nature, his imagination will have been cultivated by visits to motion picture dramas of higher class; without imagination a human being is nothing When a boy I read fairy tales illustrated with colored plates. My son can see the living, moving fairy stories on the motion picture screen, and fairy stories are educating for they cultivate the imagination; bring higher thoughts and fancies; tend to refinement and gentleness.

The art of the motion picture is wonderful. The McCauley of future historical events will not be obliged to depend upon the opinions, and the ideas, and the prejudices of others. Instead he will enter a large record room, ask for motion picture films of this or that period, and he will see at first hand the modes of dress, the architecture, the armaments, the customs of living of the people of that particular historical period.

Before the advent of the motion picture, some Europeans believed that Buffalo, N. Y., was so named because buffaloes roamed there; they thought Chicago was on the border of the western wilderness. After the motion picture had flashed true to life scenes in and about these great cities, the Europeans received a more enlightened conception of the life and wonders of this great country

I believe that between the pillars of the great churches, the motion picture screen will sooner or later be permanently fastened Why not? Seeing is believing! Pointing to the motion picture screen as the pictures appear, the clergyman will exclaim "This is Jerusalem, here we see the Mount of Olives; here is where the Bible tells us Christ was crucified; this is the Sea of Galilee. In this manner the Bible will be made yet more dear to many, and its lessons made the more vivid and impressive.

And I often hear adverse comments upon the melodrama of the motion pictures. This melodrama is not so bad; I speak from experience; there is always a moral lesson in movie melodrama and many are beautifully pictured like great paintings of tragic action. We must all have our tragedies, our melodramas in real life and what, by the way, is more melodramatic than the Bible and Shakespeare?

I have put my best work into the character of "Maverick Brander," the Texas Cattle King in Charles Hoyt's play "A Texas Steer," released as a Selig Red Seal play. There are many opportunities in that character role for humorous work.

The Record in Monessen is a Unique One

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ills and is looking for an effective kidney medicine, better depend on the remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills have given great satisfaction in such cases. Monessen citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

H. R. Wilbur, 131 McKee avenue, Monessen, says: "I contracted a heavy cold which affected my kidneys. My back was sore and lame all the time and I had to have help to turn in bed. My whole body was like a board. I often had to have somebody dress me. Shooting pains darted through my body and I could not do my work. My body became bloated. The secretions were profuse in passage and contained sediment. I had dizzy spells and hot flashes, and I was miserable in every way. I doctored for years but didn't improve. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and two boxes practically cured me. Now and then I take Doan's Kidney Pills as a tonic, and give them credit for keeping me well."

Highway Patrol

The daily patrol of the state highways will be inaugurated in Pennsylvania today. At first 190 men will be on the job and later this number will be increased. The innovation marks an entirely new era in road maintainance.

It is figured that although the constant patrol of the roadways will be expensive, it will not be over $65 a mile during the year. Under the old order of things the state has been expending a half million dollars a year in rebuilding and repairing roads.

A unique method of keeping the roads in repair have been adopted. Along the highways at frequent intervals, small piles of stone chips and gravel have been placed, which will be used in patching holes as they are found during the day's inspection. Barrels of oil to be used where needed are also placed at each quarter of a mile.

The road patrols will immediately fill in holes and remove obstructions when they are found. They will also care for the edges of the highways. Each patrol will have an outfit on wheels which will provide him with tools and material for quick repairs. Superintendents in automobiles will keep in touch with the patrols and observe the work.

It is the ultimate plan to give each patrol six miles of road to care for. Other states are watching the inauguration of the new idea, and if it works out satisfactorily, many of them will adopt similar measures.

Their Five Heavens.

According to the Ptolemaic system of astronomy, there were five heavens, or firmaments, the last of which was the seat of the "pure elemental fire," and the seat of deity. This fifth or highest heaven was called the empyrean, from the Greek "en-ful," which means "in fire."

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
